A Public Apology For My Behaviours

I would like to apologize publicly to all associates and followers of the O9A sub-culture at present for my failed, limited knowledge on matters both esoteric and exoteric arising from my own individual male hubris. I prefer to use a Wordprocessor and write my writings and just post them around scribd and archive.org and other PDF sharing websites. I just don't like blogging anymore and it makes me too obsessed with getting views then when I get views I get so anxious and nervous because of how much antifascists hate white people and the right-wing even though I am conventionally speaking an anarchist or Green Anarchist.

I am sorry to all of you for my dishonourable conduct and reprehensible behaviours and I really must air them out online because it is a part of my history in the O9A and I feel it should be noted and taken into consideration where I failed and what my failings were.

Usually tragedy arises from a sense of some sort of hubris on the part of usually but not always a male figure or the hubris which arises from the masculous [sic]. I just feel that for better or worse that they must be seen.

I am unsure if I will make another blog or not. And people are concerned that I am a some sort of evil vile man who seeks to kill or cause harm to others. They do not see how tenderly I am capable of for example loving a woman. How much I enjoy humour and joking with others sometimes at my own expenses because I am able to take a joke but sometimes I react to criticism very negatively which I have to break out of. I am hoping to become an academician now and do my research on my ideas.

I do not want to discuss my personal or private life any further either.

I hope you can all forgive this failed, often pathetic very melancholic and sulky man that I am with so many vices and flaws that sometimes I myself feel like I deserve to be murdered. Yet I hurt no one besides my self at the end of the day. And anything else would require a personal knowing of me before you were able to judge.

I am sorry sincerely from the bottom of heart,

Sinistar-7